

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

The objective of Public Integrity is to further the understanding of ethics and leadership in government by publishing articles of interest to practitioners and scholars. Especially appropriate are original studies, cases, exemplar profiles, field reports, and commentaries that address both regulatory and aspirational approaches to ethics. They may explore functional areas, substantive fields, and topical issues found in public administration and affairs. Investigations may focus on any level of government and its branches as well as non-governmental actors that affect public policy or public/private-sector relationships.

MANUSCRIPT SPECIFICATIONS

Papers, divided into suitable sections and subsections, should be 18–30 typewritten, double-spaced pages and should follow the style of past issues of the journal. Authors should include an abstract and a biographical sketch of approximately 50 words each and identify the submission as a research article, case study, exemplar profile, field report, or commentary. Author name, affiliation, and e-mail address should appear only on a separate cover page to facilitate review. Submission implies that the manuscript has not been published elsewhere and is not under consideration by another journal. Practitioner authors are encouraged to be broadly reflective on the profession. Academic authors are expected to specify the implications of their work for practice.
